

The hidden terrors of the vagina are being one by one revealed. Now comes Dr. T. Gaillard Thomas, who declares the contagiousness of uterine cancer, and the possibility of its being communicated to the male organ through sexual commerce. Husbands in whose wives uterine cancer has been detected should, therefore, be warned of their danger.